Tipperary

THE IRISH CHEDDAR CHEESE

County Tipperary of Ireland is the idyllic setting for the production of this delicious cheddar. The land of Tipperary is renowned for its dairy products due to the many green pastures, clear waters and the mild climate it enjoys. Set in the sunny Southeast of Ireland, Tipperary has been a dominant producer of milk and cheese for many years.

County Tipperary has a relatively flat topography, which gives way to many flat pastures, making it ideal terrain for dairy farming. The high quality native grass, which grows naturally in the mild and wet climate, produces some of the best milk in Ireland, giving rise to an excellent sharp Cheddar Cheese.

Tipperary Cheddar has a rich creamy texture, which just melts in your mouth. It has a delicious sharp taste, which satisfies the appetite for a snack whether on a cracker or a slice of bread. The rich yellow color in Tipperary Cheddar comes about as a result of plentiful Beta Carotene in the milk, which develops in the rich, fertile grasses that feed the cattle.

Tipperary Cheddar from the land of Tipperary has much to offer in taste and appeal. Sit down with a wedge of Tipperary Extra Sharp Cheddar and you'll begin to enjoy sharp memories of all the good things back home!
